HEAVY SNOWFALL BLANKETS WESTERN AREA

MIDDLE WEST IN THE GRIP OF A RAW BLIZZARD

ALREADY HAS RESULTED IN EIGHT LIVES BEING LOST

SCORE OF ACCIDENTS IS CHARGED UP TO THE STORM

Chicago, March 31.—(UP)—The middle west today continued in the grip of an unseasonable blizzard which already has resulted in eight lives lost and a score of accidents.

Three persons were killed in Chicago in accidents while four were killed in Wisconsin, owing to the blinding snow which prevented clear vision while motoring.

The entire middle western region, from the mountains to the Ohio and from the lakes south, today is blanketed high with snow and there will be no relief for the next 24 hours, the weather bureau reported.

Snowfall in the region during the past 24 hours ranged between four and seven inches.

In Chicago today the driving snowstorm had changed to rain, but the United States weather bureau reported that snow accompanied by high winds would continue for the next 24 hours. The entire city is blanketed and drifted high and more than 500 workmen were rounded up by the city to fight the mounds of snow which block the streets.

Trains running in and out of the city are delayed by the snow which here has reached 5½ inches. This brings the month's total to more than 14 inches, a March record for the city.

The three persons killed here indirectly by the storm were in motor car accidents. This was in addition to a crash between two L. trains last night in which a score of passengers were injured, but none seriously.

In downstate Illinois the snow is reported as heavy as six inches, with the worst of the storm centering about Quincy, Ill.

Wisconsin and Minnesota also reported heavy snowfalls.

Throughout the district, however, temperatures are remaining at about the freezing point or a trifle higher.

The heaviest snowfall was reported at Fort Madison, Ia., where 16 inches fell in 24 hours. Trains were running from 30 minutes to 1½ hours behind schedule and snow continued falling today.

St. Paul, March 31.—A stinging north wind swept Minnesota today while the thermometer stood at 20 degrees. An overcast sky threatened snow but none had fallen early this morning.

The extreme southeast corner of the state had some snow during the night, and there was considerable snowfall just across the borders of Wisconsin and Iowa.

Telegraph and telephone wires between Chicago and the Twin Cities and south into Iowa were in trouble early today. Snow and high winds lowered the efficiency of service.

In the Twin Cities early today many automobile radiators were frozen.

Milwaukee, Wis., March 31.—Four persons were killed, two seriously injured and a large number of persons received minor bruises in the blizzard which swept Wisconsin during the night. The four men were riding in an automobile when struck by a speeding train at a crossing in Racine.

The dead were George Zenlos, 26; Charles Mastous, 32; Anton Petraki, 34, and George Mastous, 26.

All the men were on their way home from work when the driver was unable to see the speeding train due to the heavy snow. Two other men in the car were seriously hurt, while another one escaped with only minor bruises.

Traffic throughout the state was at a standstill due to the heavy drifts which blocked the roads. In Milwaukee street cars were running far behind schedule on the few lines that were operating, as only in a few cases were cars able to cut through the huge drifts.

Thousands of persons lined the streets on their way to work, slipping and sliding about as a light rain froze on top of the snow making the streets a field of ice.

The street car company made every effort to keep their cars running, but it was impossible to do so and hundreds of persons were marooned until such a time as they were able to secure taxicabs, which were at a premium.

Weather forecasts for today predict more snow and strong winds. Beloit was virtually snowbound

It's No Beer, But Strictly a Medicinal Product

NEW BEER NOT TO BE MUCH OF A SOCIAL DRINK

St. Paul, March 31.—(UP)—“This new beer is not going to be much of a social drink,” Andrew J. Volstead, father of the prohibition law, told the United Press. The authorization of manufacture and sale of brew containing 3.75 per cent alcohol failed to excite Volstead.

It is not the kind of drink that you can sit down and drink very much of. No doubt it is legal. It is heavy and not the sort of stuff to arouse much of an appetite. “If the bootleggers find a way to clear it up and make it really attractive, or try to put more alcoholic content into it you may be sure that the bootleggers will be caught at it. Some of it will be seized and tests made to decide the legality of the ruling permitting its manufacture and sale.”

COALITION OF G. O. P. AND DEMS. FLIES TO PIECES

HAD PREVIOUSLY DOMINATED THIS SESSION OF CONGRESS

SPLIT MAY POSTPONE INDEFINITELY THE ITALIAN DEBT SETTLEMENT

By PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Washington, March 31.—The coalition of republicans and democrats, which have dominated this session of congress, broke into pieces today and it appeared not unlikely that the split would mean indefinite postponement of the $2,045,000,000 Italian debt settlement.

A poll conducted by a senator favoring the settlement, indicated that the opposition has a fundamental strength of 45 votes to refer the matter to the finance committee, a matter on which it would stand at least until the next session of congress.

Polls taken by the United Press reveal a possible strength of 50 votes to refer the issue, just exactly two more than is necessary.

Although no official communications from authorities of the Ku Klux Klan have yet been placed in the record, both sides admit that the Klan opposition to the settlement has had its effect.

JUDGE GIDDINGS WAS AWFUL BUSY

DEFERRED HEARING LIQUOR AND BANK BANDIT
CASES

Anoka, Minn., March 31.—(UP)—Judge A. E. Giddings was too busy to hear Frederick Hanson, Minneapolis policeman, when he came into court late yesterday in defense of a liquor transportation charge. Hanson's case was postponed indefinitely. Judge Giddings will set it later in the week.

The court also deferred hearing the pleas of three alleged bank bandits who were brought into court late yesterday from Minneapolis. They secured attorneys and will plead Saturday to charges of burglarizing the First National Bank of Anoka. The men are Thomas Colcord, Fred Salmey and John Anderson.

With drifts of snow piled six feet high in places, railroad trains were far behind schedule there while interurban service is demoralized. Beloit street cars were getting back to normal at 9 A. M.

Neenah, Wis., March 31.—This city today is digging out from under one of the worst March snow storms in the history of the state. Traffic in and out of the city was demoralized. Trains were running several hours behind time. Wire service was also interrupted.

Madison, Wis., March 31.—Traffic was open here today only after an all night battle with a blizzard which had deposited six inches more snow.

LURE OF THE MOUNTAINS LED WOMAN TO DEATH

MISS CARRIE HUMPHREY KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENT NEAR ABERDEEN, S. D.

MACHINE STRUCK A BUMP AND ROLLED OVER TWICE

St. Paul, March 31.—(UP)—The lure of mountains and love for a friend led Miss Carrie Humphrey of Chippewa Falls to death in an automobile accident, friends here said today.

The girl was killed near Aberdeen, S. D., Monday in a car with Clara H. Knowles, of Hamilton, Montana.

They were on their way to Hamilton. Miss Humphrey had been invited to go west for the summer to visit Mrs. Knowles, an old Chippewa Falls friend.

Knowles was in Chippewa Falls and wanted Miss Humphrey to drive west with him, friends said today. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Abner Humphrey, objected. They feared social complications.

Unhappy at home Miss Humphrey finally secured consent of her parents to go to Chicago and enter training as a nurse. She left home last Thursday. Instead of going to Chicago, she came to St. Paul and visited with Mrs. Leo J. Connell, 226 East Pennsylvania Avenue, another old friend from Chippewa Falls.

Apparently she had arranged to meet Knowles here and drive west. Mrs. Connell took her to the Union depot last Sunday morning. Miss Humphrey said she was to meet a friend named Thompson.

Knowles left Chippewa Falls Sunday morning, saying he was driving to Hamilton with Hi Thompson, an Eau Claire man. Thompson drove to St. Paul with Knowles, but did not see Miss Humphrey.

While visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Connell the girl was undecided whether to go to Chicago or go west to visit Mrs. Knowles, they said. She did not reveal to them that she was meeting Knowles here.

The couple started west. Near Aberdeen late Monday Knowles was lighting a cigarette and Miss Humphrey was holding the wheel. In passing another car the machine hit a bump and turned over twice into a ditch. Miss Humphrey was almost instantly killed. Knowles, only slightly injured, was taken to a hospital at Aberdeen.

Parents of the girl, incensed at his action, threatened Tuesday to prosecute Knowles.

Friends here spoke highly of the girl. They said they believed her trip west with Knowles was planned in innocence. She was a close friend of Mrs. Knowles and wanted to visit her, but lacked funds for such a long trip, hence her decision to drive with Knowles, friends said.

The body likely will be returned to Chippewa Falls for burial.

BARGE LINE MEN ON TO WASHINGTON

St. Paul, March 31.—(UP)—Officials of the Upper Mississippi Barge line will leave tonight for Washington to confer with Secretary of War Dwight F. Davis.

The government, through the Inland Waterways corporation, has been asked to provide $1,000,000 for the development of upper Mississippi navigation.

Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce, will be in the twin cities April 19, in the interest of river navigation, according to S. S. Thorpe, president of the barge line.

FIVE BELIEVED LOST AS MOTOR BOAT CAPSIZED

Detroit, Mich., March 31.—(UP)—Canadian and American shores of Lake St. Clair were searched today for trace of five unidentified persons who are believed to have lost their lives late Monday when a small motorboat capsized near the Detroit waterworks. Capsizing of the frail craft and subsequent disappearance of the five occupants was witnessed by three persons standing on the American shore.

CONFERENCE AT GENEVA NEEDS UNITED STATES

EXPECTS TO CONSIDER U. S. RESERVATIONS TO ADHERENCE TO WORLD COURT

IF U. S. DOES NOT PARTICIPATE, PARLEY WILL PROBABLY BE ABANDONED

Geneva, March 31.—(UP)—The proposed conference at Geneva to consider the United States reservations to American adherence to the world court probably will be abandoned unless the United States participates.

Sir Eric Drummond, secretary general of the League, today announced that he had written to Secretary of State Frank B. Kellogg advising him that all signatories to the world court protocol, had been invited to confer in Geneva September 1 with the United States to draft an annex to the protocol which would embody the American reservations.

The letter requests Kellogg to notify the League whether the United States will participate in the conference as the project probably would be abandoned unless the United States accepted the invitation.

2 RAILROADS WISH TO TAP HOLLANDALE

MAKE APPLICATION TO STATE
RAILROAD AND WAREHOUSE
COMMISSION

St. Paul, Minn., March 31.—(UP)—Two railroads went before O. P. B. Jacobson, railroad and warehouse commissioner yesterday, seeking permission to construct short branch lines to tap the New Hollandale development.

Vast acres of reclaimed lowlands, producing good quality garden stuffs in particular, would be tapped by the lines. The St. Paul road asks an extension of their lines from Oakland to Hollandale, a distance of eight miles, and the Rock Island asked an extension of 9.3 miles from Clark's Grove to Hollandale.

Commissioner Jacobson heard the applications for the interstate commerce commission.

CONTRABAND LIQUOR CAR IN COLLISION

Fergus Falls, Minn., March 31.—(UP)—Charles Siems, whose automobile was wrecked when struck by a car carrying three men and a large quantity of liquor, is reported in a serious condition at a hospital here today.

One of the trio which occupied the second wrecked automobile is held by authorities. He was arrested after the accident but his companions escaped.

The prisoner's name was given as F. E. Gibson. He refused to divulge the identity of the other two men, but said they were transporting liquor from Melrose, Minn., to North Dakota.

EDWARD W. SCRIPPS WILL IS OFFERED TO THE PROBATE COURT

WILL IS BRIEF DOCUMENT. REFERS TO LARGE INSTRUMENT. A TRUST AGREEMENT

PROVISIONS FOR WIDOW, CHILDREN, NEWSPAPER PROPERTY, ANNUITIES, ETC.

Hamilton, Ont., March 31.—(UP)—The will of Edward W. Scripps, late publisher and founder of the Scripps-Howard newspapers, who died at sea off the coast of Liberia, Africa, on March 12, was offered for probate here today by a representative of Newton D. Baker of Cleveland, former secretary of war, who was the custodian.

The will is dated November 23, 1922. Among the witnesses to the will is Roy W. Howard, who with Robert P. Scripps, only surviving son of the publisher, is the head of the Scripps-Howard newspapers. The will itself is a brief document. It refers to a large instrument, however, a trust agreement, which was entered into by E. W. Scripps with Robert P. Scripps on the same day that the will was executed and under which the properties of the former since have been controlled and administered by the latter.

The purpose of the trust agreement was to prevent any interruption in the operation of the Scripps-Howard newspapers. At the death of the founder, Robert P. Scripps was named as executor as well as trustee.

By the terms of the trust agreement, Mrs. E. W. Scripps, wife of the publisher, is left the life use of Miramar, the large California ranch of the Scripps family and annual income of $60,000 and the right to will $1,000,000 of the property of the trust estate. A daughter, Mrs. Thomas E. Mearns of La Jolla, Cal., is left an annuity of $30,000.

An annuity of $15,000 to Miami University of Oxford, O., is for the purpose of carrying on investigations into population problems, which Scripps has been financing for a number of years.

Another $30,000 annuity goes to science services for the purpose of carrying on the work of that institution, which Scripps founded during his life time to popularize scientific information and data throughout the country.

The trust agreement also provides that 30 per cent of the annual income of the estate is to be used for purchasing, starting or financing new newspaper, and news enterprises, the controlling stock of which is to be held by the trust estate. This fund also may be used for providing stock opportunities for persons in the Scripps-Howard concern. Its chief purpose is to provide a means by which the E. W. Scripps estate can continue its investment in newspapers of the Scripps-Howard concern.

After minor bequests of annuities and a flat sum bequest of $25,000 to Harry L. Smithson, secretary to E. W. Scripps, the entire residuary income of the trust is left to Robert P. Scripps and his children for the life of the trust, which is to remain in existence until the death of the youngest of R. P. Scripps' children.

No estimate has yet been placed on the value of the estate, but it is expected that this will be done within the next few weeks. In the case of prior death of Robert P. Scripps, the following are appointed trustees of the estate:

Roy W. Howard of New York, Thomas L. Sidlo of Cleveland, and Wilson Gardner of Washington.

HENRY FORD'S IDEA OPERATING MUSCLE SHOALS

By FOSTER EATON

Copyright, 1926, by United Press
Detroit, Mich., March 31.—Henry Ford believes Muscle Shoals “should be operated as a single industrial unit,” he said in an exclusive interview with the United Press today. “The government, of course, should retain all its rights in the property for purposes of national defense,” he said.

Declining to discuss the possibility of his renewing his offer to bid for the government's great power and nitrate project in Alabama, the automobile magnate declared:

“Whoever obtains a lease of this property should be obligated to keep it intact for peace time quantity production of power and nitrates for fertilizer and ready for instant use in the manufacture of explosives by the government in the event of war.”

“TO SAVE THE YOUTH OF NATION” IS HIS SLOGAN

WILLIAM L. MEYER, ILLINOIS
SCHOOLMASTER, AS WET CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESS

DECLARES “BREAKDOWN OF YOUTH” IS DUE TO PROHIBITION

Evanston, Ill., March 31.—(UP)—To “save the youth of the nation,” William L. Meyer, a schoolmaster for 28 years, has announced himself as a wet candidate for congress.

“Millionaire row,” embracing an exclusive slice of Chicago's north side and the suburbs of the north shore is the object of Meyer's primary drive for the democratic nomination for congress. Evanston, national headquarters of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, is the center of the district.

Meyer is addressing his appeal to “mothers and fathers, who have overstepped the Volstead act,” and asks them to stop the “breakdown of youth,” which he attributed to prohibition.

“This breakdown of youth is a nation wide condition,” Meyer said today. “How can one expect the boys and girls of the nation to obey restraint and laws when their fathers and mothers are lawbreakers before their eyes?”

George Brennan, democratic “boss” of Illinois and himself a candidate for the United States senate on a wet ticket, is throwing the support of his powerful organization behind Meyer against Congressman Charles R. Chindblom, a dry.

CLAIMED NO CHANCE TO USE IT AS BEVERAGE

BREWERY TO SELL TO WHOLESALE DRUGGISTS AND LATTER TO RETAIL DRUGGISTS

TONIC IS BLACK IN COLOR, AND NEITHER LOOKS NOR TASTES LIKE BEER

By J. E. HELFERT
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Milwaukee, Wis., March 31.—To Milwaukee, the city made famous for its pre-Volstead beer, now comes the privilege of manufacturing and dispensing a malt tonic, which contains not only nourishment but a stimulating content of 3.75 per cent alcohol.

The privilege to manufacture and dispense this malt tonic product has been given to the Pabst Brewery corporation here and to the Anheuser-Busch Brewery of St. Louis, according to word received from Washington.

Despite all the joy this announcement might cause the wets, Fred Pabst, Sr., in an interview with the United Press declares there is not a chance of the tonic being used as a beverage. It is strictly a medicinal product.

Pabst, who just returned from Washington, told the United Press the government has long seen the need for such a malt tonic and has decided to give manufacture and dispensing of such a product a six months' trial. If at the end of that period, Pabst said, there is anything to show that the product has been used as a beverage, the right to manufacture and distribute it will be taken away.

“Long before prohibition the Pabst corporation made such a tonic. We, however, saw to it that it was distributed through drug stores. We will sell it to wholesale druggists, who in turn will sell it to retail druggists. Only five cases a week are allowed to be sold smaller drug stores, while not more than 25 cases a week are allowed to larger drug stores.”

The new tonic, according to a sample displayed by Pabst, is dark brown, in fact nearly black, and contains so much solid matter, 25 per cent, that it is impossible to see any light through a bottle held up to the light. The tonic neither looks nor tastes like beer.

When asked whether it would not be possible to dilute the tonic and make it useful as a beverage, Pabst said “diluting will be possible, of course, but with the addition of water, the alcoholic content will naturally be lessened. Then again it would not be possible to obtain enough of this beer through druggists to be of much use as a beverage.”

“I would not care to drink more than a wine glass of the tonic,” Pabst declared. “It is palatable but could not be drunk as a beverage. A wine glass is usually prescribed as a dose.”

Pabst declared he had no means of judging how the tonic would be taken by the public, but indicated his plant would be able to manufacture large quantities of the product and if necessary he would employ more men.

“This tonic will be of great value to convalescents and persons afflicted with cancer. Ever since prohibition we have had any number of persons afflicted with cancer calling at the plant and begging us to give them beer before it is dealcoholized,” Pabst said.

Rules regarding the manufacture and distribution of this product were contained in a letter to Pabst from James E. Jones, director of prohibition, Washington.

One of the rules is that all advertising in connection with the distribution of this tonic shall be restricted to its medicinal character only.

It is unlikely that any other Milwaukee breweries will seek permission to make such a product at present, according to officials in charge of those concerns.

VEIGEL TAKES STEPS TO CURB BANK FAILURES

SHOULD DIVEST THEMSELVES OF REAL ESTATE FORECLOSED RECENTLY

ADDRESSES LETTER TO HEADS OF ALL STATE BANKS

St. Paul, March 31.—(UP)—In an effort to curb bank failures, A. J. Veigel, state banking commissioner, today urged that banks of the northwest divest themselves of real estate foreclosed in the last few years.

In a letter to heads of all state banks and trust companies, he urged immediate reduction or elimination of items of real estate other than property on which the bank itself is located.

Thousands of properties have been foreclosed by banks of the northwest in the last few years, due to depression, according to the commissioner. "Real estate," Veigel said, "is an undesirable asset for banks in that it is not sufficiently liquid."

"This real estate, which has been the cause of many banks being ordered closed, has been acquired during the last several years of agricultural depression."

"The period of depression is undoubtedly over," Veigel contended in his letter. "Business in the northwest is on the upgrade."

"There is now a good market for such real estate as banks hold. Many banks already have formed holding companies to take over the real estate and to provide banks with cash

Cowan, First Blind Man Convicted in New York of First Degree Murder, Faces Electric Chair

Harry W. Cowan, 53 years old, was found guilty of first degree murder by a Brooklyn, N. Y., jury for the killing of Edith Burton, 27 years old. The defense contended Miss Burton, public stenographer in a New York hotel, had shot herself in a suicide pact before Cowan shot and blinded himself. An offer was in court to arrest Cowan for grand larceny, had he been acquitted. The larceny charge was based on his admitted shortage of about $12,000 in his accounts at a New York hotel. Cowan is said to be the first blind man convicted of first degree murder in New York State, if not the United States.

MAYOR LEACH TO OPEN CAMPAIGN

MEETING CALLED AT BENSON ON WEDNESDAY, APRIL 7

Benson, Minn., March 31.—(UP)—Mayor George E. Leach of Minneapolis, will open his campaign for the republican nomination for governor at a meeting here April 7.

He accepted an invitation of the Swift county "Leach for Governor Club" to make his formal opening here. The local club has 153 members and plans an open meeting in the court house auditorium.

Morris republicans will send a delegation with a band to hear the keynote address.

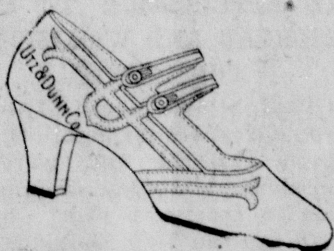

N. D. Republican Convention

Bismarck, N. D.—The North Dakota republican convention called by R. W. Frazier, elected chairman of the state central committee, was ready to start here today but with its purpose in doubt.

Originally the object was to endorse Gerald P. Nye and force L. B. Hanna off the republican ballot in the forthcoming special senatorial election. Nye has announced he will refuse the endorsement.

HEAVY BUYING ORDERS OPEN STOCK EXCHANGE

New York, March 31.—(UP)—Heavy buying orders came to the rescue of the Stock Exchange at the opening today and many of the stocks, which had been under pressure yesterday advanced several points.

Recovery of the railroad stocks was especially notable. Delaware & Hudson and Atlantic Coast Line swerved upward after the opening quotations had gone below yesterday's low. Hudson and United States Steel, among the industrials, jumped forward after initial setbacks.

Sales for the first half hour totalled 433,100 shares.

New York, March 31.—(UP)—The stock market went through another day of spirited trading but without the disastrous price declines which marked yesterday's record selling market.

Most of the leading stocks maintained their positions with only slight variations.

Shorts coming into the market during the afternoon, buying heavily, caused a rally which sent many shares up notably.

There was heavy dealing throughout the day, notably in United States Steel, Hudson Motors and General Electric.

Both the curb and bond markets reflected the situation on the stock market. Bonds dropped during the morning and then rallied closing higher, while the curb market was higher in the opening hours, dropped and then turned upward during the closing two hours.

During the closing moments on the stock market the short interests were in almost complete rout.

Total sales for today were 2,609,400, about three-quarters of a million shares less than yesterday's sales.

MAIL ORDER BUSINESS OF FIRM UNDER THE BAN

St. Paul, March 31.—(UP)—All mail directed to a St. Paul jewelry company, alleged to have received thousands of dollars fraudulently during the past three months, was returned to the senders today.

Postal inspectors investigated and found the firm offering to sell a $13.50 "pearl necklace" for $3.50 by mail. Inspectors said the necklace offered was in reality worth much less than $3.50.

Mail order business of the company was ordered stopped and arrests may be made soon.

BRIAND CABINET GAINS A SHORT BREATHING SPELL

SAVED FROM DEFEAT AND RESIGNATION BY SOCIALIST GROUP

ABSTAIN FROM VOTING ON THE TURNOVER TAX ON BUSINESS

By A. L. BRADFORD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Paris, March 31.—Premier Briand's cabinet apparently has been saved from defeat and resignation by the decision today of the socialist group in the chamber of deputies to abstain from voting on the turnover tax on business which Finance Minister Peret insists must be a part of the financial program.

The socialists' decision assures the government a majority on this clause, provided they do not change their minds.

Decisive discussion of the financial program began in the chamber of deputies today. The deputies first approved the civic tax in a slightly modified form which would graduate this tax from 60 per cent to 2 per cent.

Paris, March 31.—Finance Minister Peret today asked the chamber of deputies to suppress the article in the financial program which provides for a French oil monopoly. Peret explained such a monopoly might cause foreign complications.

It is known Standard Oil protested to Washington against the proposed monopoly.

Paris, March 31.—The government was defeated in the chamber of deputies today when the deputies refused to suppress the oil monopoly article inserted into the financial project over the government's objection by the finance committee. The vote was 287 to 232.

COALITION ARMY EXPECTS RE-
IMBURSEMENT FROM CUS-TOMS DUTIES

By RANDALL GOULD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Peking, March 31.—It is learned from a reliable source that the nationalist troops controlling Peking have agreed to turn the city over to the coalition army belligerent in consideration of $50,000.

The nationalists first offered to evacuate the city for $1,000,000. The $50,000 would be paid from customs duties, whereafter the nationalists gradually would evacuate the city as the coalition troops peaceably filtered in.

Overthrow of the present Peking government is expected as a result of this bargain.

"SOME WILD NOTIONS I HAVE KNOWN"

By the REV. ROY L. SMITH, D. D.
Pastor Simpson M. E. Church, Minneapolis

"TRAIN UP A CHILD IN THE WAY HE SHALL GO"

And so that way yourself!
It is a hard thing to send your child in one direction and go, yourself, in another.

"I would like to see someone get my boy into Church," said a mother in distress. The youth was living prodigally and recklessly. His whole future was in serious jeopardy.

For seventeen years that mother had shown no interest in the Church. Her attendance had been irregular and spasmodic. She went when she felt like and could find no excuse for not going. Her influence, so far as the church was concerned, was nil.

"Yes," said the pastor, "I would like to see someone get him into the church." If anyone does it will be in spite of that mother.

Boys become what they think their fathers are.

To point the way of honor and rectitude to a youth is a fine thing to do. To go that way yourself, adding example to precept, is the finest pedagogy in the world.

We call grown men hypocrites who advocate one thing and do another. What shall we call parents who send their children to Sunday School and go, themselves, to the golf links?

Most of the world knows better than it does. It is not the teaching of the world that is at fault. It is our living that has failed.

It is useless to demand that American youth shall keep the law on the public highway if American parents break it in the privacy of their own homes.

It is folly to expect the church and the school to successfully compete with the evil example of a father or mother.

Train up a child in the way he shall go and go that way yourself.

Jackie Coogan in Sequel to His
"The Rag Man"

Those who saw Jackie Coogan in "The Rag Man" will recall the plucky fight of the firm of Kelly & Ginsberg to regain a fortune which had been stolen by unscrupulous promoters. The funny situations which led to, and followed, their sudden ascension to wealth will be remembered by all lovers of wholesome comedy. Now Kelly & Ginsberg have returned to their poverty in "Old Clothes," and once again they start the heart-breaking battle for wealth.

"Old Clothes" is Jackie's first picture on his new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer contract and comes to the New Park Friday for three days, matinee and night.

Modern Drama Stars Favorite Team
Marie Prevost and Monte Blue are the co-stars of "Daughters of Pleasure," the picture now showing at the Lyceum. This is the first appearance of these two favorites since their association in "The Marriage Circle."

"Daughters of Pleasure" tells the story of a family of nouveau riches. Unbalanced by their sudden affluence, the family outstrips the "idle rich" in pleasure seeking. The daughter, forbidden to continue her friendship with Kent Merrill, learns that her father is carrying on a flirtation with a young French girl.

With the mocking words, "like father, like daughter," Marjorie sets out with Merrill for his country place.

"California Straight Ahead" With Reginald Denny
What would you do if your fiancée refused to marry you merely because you showed up unavoidably late at the wedding, and because you had alcohol on your clothes — only on your clothes, you understand?

Well—he didn't do any of those things. In "California Straight Ahead," starring Reginald Denny, coming to the Lyceum Theatre tomorrow, the hero takes himself and his sorrow on a transcontinental motor trip, in the "honeymoon trailer" he had built for his bride.

TAKES TAXICAB AFTER TRAINS. BUSSES FAILED

St. Paul, March 31.—(UP)—Trains that he missed and motorbus lines that did not operate because of a snowstorm, today forced Rev. A. W. Wahl of Eau Claire to drive 92 miles in a taxicab to keep a date.

Rev. Wahl of the Lutheran church of Eau Claire was scheduled to conduct noon day Lenten services at the Metropolitan theater. He arrived shortly before noon to fulfill his engagement.

SAYS CRIMINAL WASTE IN RAILROADS

Washington, March 31.—(UP)—Criminal wastes caused by bad management are bearing the railroads of this country toward government ownership, Senator Gooding, republican, Idaho, charged before the senate interstate commerce committee today. Gooding, bringing up the conditions of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad, said bad management had caused that road to suffer.

81 ON STRONG CIGARS

James H. ("Pop") Johnson, still a member of Uncle Sam's Army at the age of 81, challenges the claim of Nat Poyntz, 80-year-old Boston soldier, to being the oldest active soldier in the regular army. He keeps young, he says, by smoking a dozen strong cigars a day and getting rid of any irritation by which he may be beset by aiming plenty of well-chosen profanity at the army mules at the Presidio in San Francisco. "Pop" was born in Hanover, Ohio, in 1846 and has fought through every war and near war in which the country has engaged, including several Indian uprisings and the Boxer Rebellion in China.

MAGNUS JOHNSON WANTS FURTHER CONSIDERATION

Minneapolis, March 31.—(UP)—Magnus Johnson, former United States senator, announced today he would appeal to the senate elections committee for further consideration of his contest against Senator Thomas D. Schall.

A sub-committee has reported against him and in favor of Senator Schall. It is believed senatorial courtesy will result in the entire committee taking up the case.

TO PREVENT SALE OF COTTON, GRAIN IN FUTURE MARKETS

Washington, March 31.—(UP)—A bill to prevent sale of cotton and grain in future markets was reported to the senate today without recommendation by the committee on agriculture and forestry.

In an accompanying report Senator Caraway, democrat, Arkansas, charged that the ills of the farmer were caused to a large measure by futures trading on stock exchanges.

HAVE YOUR ENVELOPES PRINTED IN BRAINERD

A LAWYER in New York wrote his brother who is head of a New York state country bank, in regard to the use of government printed envelopes, and as quoted in the Staples World, said:

"I know their convenience and doubtless they are cheaper, but in these days when the various classes of industry and business realize the necessity of fighting against the further encroachment of the government and state into business, it is rather inconsistent for a bank, or any other business, to encourage government competition with its own citizens.

"So far as the envelopes are concerned, the government is in the business tax free; and if it can manufacture, sell and distribute envelopes in competition with private enterprise, which must pay the taxes to maintain government, there is no good reason why it should not invade other fields of business. Each industrial function taken over in the name of the government adds an increased tax burden on the private citizen and property owner. I think that when the present supply of government envelopes is exhausted, we should purchase our envelopes from a private printer who pays taxes to maintain our government, even if it makes us lick our own stamps and causes us to pay a little more for the printing. Think it over."

Every printing job you send out of town takes from your local printers that much business. The local paper works continuously to promote the best interests of the town. Every dollar paid for job work stays in Brainerd and in revolving about the community it assists here and there in promoting industry. The dollar sent to the government for printing doesn't benefit the local printer nor the community. Neither does the dollar sent to an outside printing concern.

HOW MANY A NEWSPAPER REGARDS THE SALOON

THE saloon is a wart or boil on the face of nature, a useless part of the life of a nation and the wave of prohibition sentiment culminating in the 18th amendment did well to wipe this festering spot away.

We hope no cataclysm ever brings back the saloon. The saloon was never of any earthly benefit to a newspaper. Few if any of the men advertised and in the pioneer days of Brainerd, as it has often been stated, a bill collector seeking to collect from a saloon oftentimes absorbed more at the bar waiting for the bill to be paid, than the whole original newspaper bill amounted to.

When Brainerd lost its saloons, the buildings filled up with the kind of business that advertisers and gives a newspaper patronage not alone in advertising but in job work too.

Take newspapers generally, all through the country. They have done more business in these days than when the saloons flourished. THE BRAINERD DISPATCH has made more improvements, added its large press, its printer-telegraph service in these prohibition days, and paid higher wages than it ever was able to in the old wet days.

The flock of saloons which Brainerd had in the old days gave a newspaper but little income and often got some of its subscribers so drunk they forgot to pay the paper boy at the end of the quarter.

NEW YORK'S FINE SPENCERIAN HAND

JUST when we of the West had Canada linked with America in a St. Lawrence-Great Lakes waterway, New York state throws a monkey wrench into things internal, and parades its idea of an "All-American" canal. The state's boosters appeal to patriotism, the war department, and every selfish interest to put such a canal across the country and by engaging the nation in their project they will effectually shut out consideration of our waterway.

New York hates to give up any advantage accruing as a port and rail head. In spite of its stifling dock and other shipping charges, port regulations, rail congestion, it wants the West to continue using present channels of transportation while it enjoys every advantage under the sun.

New York regards the West as provincial, we're simply people hanging on to its apron strings. When the Panama Canal was projected, the West didn't sit back like a dog in the manger and propose another route simply to block the Panama procedure.

The West helped build the Panama Canal which has benefited the port of New York immensely while the Middle West never got a cent's benefit from the improvement.

THE ARE KIND TO EACH OTHER

THE other day John McGraw said he believed the Washington Senators had the necessary pep and steam to again win the pennant in the American league. Jawn no doubt had sized up the team's roster and heard reports from the training camp.

One good turn deserves another and so Buck Harris, well pleased with the compliment accorded his team, now says the New York Giants will win the flag in the National league. "They're 50 per cent better than last year and they have too much pitching and all around class for the Pirates."

So it seems to be settled and the rest of the clubs have been counted out of the running.

Baseball managers are all a good deal like political managers. They claim victory for their teams as the season opens and gradually quit talking as the losing percentage waxes strong. The political manager, however, never quits claiming victory until the last return has knocked the bottom out of his candidate's hopes.

TAX reduction is a job that concerns all of us. It is of concern to every worker in shops or stores, or other industries, every storekeeper, banker, man, woman and child, because ultimately we all pay in the cost of living, all taxes which are assessed against business.

A SHORT course in home nursing for persons with or without experience will begin Wednesday, March 31, at University Farm.

IT'S NO BEER, BUT STRICTLY A MEDICINAL PRODUCT

is in violation of the Sevenson dry law in Wisconsin, which prohibits the sale or manufacture of all liquor containing one-half of one per cent of alcohol or more, according to a statement issued late Tuesday by State Prohibition Commissioner Gunderson.

"Whether there is any authority in the Volstead law for the reported ruling, authorizing 3.75 per cent malt liquor, this department does not care to express an opinion," the statement says.

BELIEVES PERMITS SOON TO BE REVOKED

Milwaukee, Wis., March 31.—Rev. J. F. Hartman, superintendent of the Wisconsin Anti-Saloon League does not think so much of the permit granted the Pabst corporation of this city to manufacture and distribute a malt tonic.

"These permits will not last long," Hartman said. "I have already started an investigation to learn what this tonic is going to be. If my first belief is confirmed I believe that issuing of the permits will be declared unconstitutional within a very short time."

Hartman declared he had been informed that the solid matter of the malt could be removed and that which was left mixed with near beer which would make a beverage highly satisfactory to the wet palate.

MINNEAPOLIS FLOODED WITH MALT EXTRACT

Minneapolis, March 31.—Minneapolis was flooded with a malt extract today, known as Liebig beer. It is reported to contain 3.5 per cent alcohol but is medicated.

Prohibition agents said it does not conform to the formula prescribed by General L. C. Andrews which he has legalized, but is made under another formula which is not in violation of the law.

Should it be sold except in bottles it would become illegal, according to Major B. B. Wilcox, assistant northwest prohibition director.

"Interview" That Has Gone Down in History

Those correspondents in Washington who emerge from conferences with the President confused as to what, if anything, he said, must look back at the first interviewer of a President with sincere envy. The first Presidential statement made to a newspaper reporter came from the glad sea waves of the giggling Potomac.

Anne Royall, the "pioneer in modern journalism," sat on President John Quincy Adams' clothes on shore and listened to what the bather, clad only in river water and dismay, had to say. There were no "ah's" and "oh's." Whenever she failed to grasp the sense of a remark, she demanded an explanation. And the President clarified it nobly. The story is told entertainingly in "Seventy-five Years of White House Gossip," by Edna M. Colman.

Nowadays the correspondents in Washington assemble at the White House at a certain hour of a certain day and park their walking sticks. Then they are admitted to the solemn one who is glancing through a pack of questions which formally have been sent him. Occasionally he makes a statement. It is current knowledge that one statement he made a few weeks ago was interpreted as "yes" by half of the reporters, and as "no" by the other half.

Nothing like that went with Anne Royall, a woman of many summers. She wanted the President's idea about the state bank question. Every morning it was his custom to scurry up the Potomac for a swim. Bathing suits were not yet in fashion. She followed him one day and sat upon his clothes. Standing chin deep, he replied to her questions. And an old woman scooped the world with the first interview with a President of the United States . . . and a real interview, too.—Richmond News-Leader.

Wolves Make Trouble

As a consequence of the recent bitter cold and the heavy snowfalls many wolves and wild boars have descended from the mountains and made their appearance on the Carso and in other parts of the Julian Venetia, says a Milan correspondent of the London Times.

One night wolves besieged the station of Prestane-Mattegna, near Trieste, where the employees barricaded the building and defended themselves. The wolves disappeared only at dawn. At San Pietro del Carso two big wild boars were killed. One of them weighed more than 600 pounds. A number of wild boars appeared in the province of Savona, along the Riviera. Two were killed. In Umbria wolves are reported to be ravaging the countryside. A reward of 400 lire ($15) for each wolf shot is being offered by various municipalities.

Beaver Meat Palatable

The body meat of the beaver has rather a gamy flavor, but if properly cared for and cooked is excellent, and was generally preferred by trappers to any other game, even in the early days when buffalo, elk and deer were abundant. The tail is fatty tissue, very rich and palatable, and considered a great delicacy.

snow, which badly drifted by daylight.

Bus service out of here was demoralized as well as rail traffic.

Kansas City, Mo., March 31.—The southwest today settled down to digging out of the record breaking snowfall of the last two days. Reports reaching here show scores of motorists marooned in every section while train service is demoralized. Trains are reported stalled in Oklahoma, with two relief trains sent to the aid of a passenger train near Foraker, Okla.

Ten inches of snow fell in western Missouri, the heaviest this year. One hundred cars are reported stalled near Junction City, Kas.

Four deaths have been reported as a result of the storm in Texas. Two men were killed near Liberty, Tex., when the gale there blew down oil derricks. One woman was killed near Crosby and a negro died of injuries near Beaumont.

The forecast for today indicated the worst of the storm was over, weather bureaus predicting a warm sun would come to the aid of snow shovellers.

SPRING DRIVEN AWAY BY BLAST

Belated winter storms have driven spring from most of North America, east of the Rocky Mountains. The worst storms for this time of year for six seasons blew down out of the Arctic and up from the Gulf Monday night, gradually spread and today reports to the United Press showed the eastern Atlantic, the middle west and southwest all were affected.

Twelve deaths have been reported.

Wheels Within Wheels

Prof. William Lyon Phelps was talking about a poor book that had been greatly overpraised.

"Criticism," he said, "isn't always unbiased. Wheels within wheels, you know. It's like the good old story of the prisoners in Germany."

"Two brothers, Tom and Jack, were captured on the western front and sent to Germany. One wrote home:

"Dear mother—Here I am at last in the beautiful German prison. I have a fine room, with clean sheets, good food, and cigars—Your loving son, Tom."

"P. S.—Jack was shot yesterday for complaining."

His Acuteness

"My nephew, who was attending college in Manhattan and taking a course in electrical engineering, has gone to Schenectady, N. Y., to take a job with an electric company," said Farmer Fumbligate.

"He always was a bright lad," commented Farmer Funter.

"Yes, since! Why, he knew how to spell 'Schenectady,' the first time I asked him."—Kansas City Star.

A Diploma for Kitty

By H. LOUIS RAYBOLD

(Copyright.)

THERE was one thing that the Ridgeway School for Girls prided itself upon and that was that their diplomas were honestly earned. That was why the Ridgeway diploma really meant something in the world outside. Not that many Ridgeway alumnae went job hunting. Graduation meant marriage for most of them. Only occasionally, as in the case of Kitty Alstyne, for example, was there real need for a position that would bring in money.

And now here was this same Kitty, as commencement drew near, in very grave danger of getting no diploma at all.

"You see, Katherine," Miss Bromley, the principal, was telling the downcast girl, "you haven't worked this last semester. Too much frivolity, I am afraid."

"But there's a tiny chance, isn't there?" Kitty begged.

The woman sighed. "Very, very tiny," she admitted.

Disconsolately, Kitty went out and, closing the door gently behind her, stood for a moment thinking things over. Then, as she saw Mademoiselle, the French instructress, coming down the hall, she took out her handkerchief and began dabbling her eyes.

Mademoiselle paused at once. "Mees Keetty—oh, have you the bad news?"

"The very worst," confessed Kitty. "You know you gave me a D in French Lit. Well, I'm not going to get my diploma."

Gently Mademoiselle patted Kitty's shoulder and resolved to go over her marks carefully. There might have been an error. Perhaps that last composition now—

This little incident was but typical of others which followed when rumor spread through the school that Kitty Alstyne was in danger of flunking her finals. The bashful young man recently called in to teach mathematics offered to help Kitty after class if she wished and decided it would be no great crime to go easy when correcting her problems. Even the cold Miss Warner, English professor, wondered if she had been a trifle severe and whether she could not conscientiously jack up Kitty's few remaining marks a bit.

For Kitty, with her lovable manner and winsome face, had made her way into the hearts of everyone. Not only of classmates and teachers, but—yes, it must be confessed—of various masculine acquaintances in the not far distant men's college.

For four years no Junior prom or Senior ball had seemed quite complete without Kitty's shining presence. For a time she had chosen her escorts with great impartiality, but of late she had been seen mostly with Hartley Haynes or Jimmy Rogers and considerable interest had developed as to which one of the two she would ultimately favor.

Kitty had no family to back her, no money to depend upon. At the time of her father's death there had been just enough left to finish the schooling upon which she had started and for some time it had been her intention, upon graduation, to step bravely out into the world of business, her diploma her only credential.

It was because of this that a conspiracy gradually grew up to see that somehow or other Kitty graduated. Fair or not, everyone had secretly subscribed to it. Time was short and Kitty herself strangely apathetic, as one who had lost hope. How could she be expected to know that her strict instructors were wrestling with their consciences to boost her percentages and insulting their intelligences by giving her the benefit of doubts where no doubts existed?

One week before commencement the teachers were gathered in Miss Bromley's office for the final marking of reports. As regarded Kitty, each had fought the bitter fight and, morally speaking, had lost out. Miss Bromley, picking up Kitty's card, actually beamed. "The dear child! Not one deficiency! Shows what application!"

A timid knock drew her attention from various guilty faces.

"Come in—why, Katherine!"

For Kitty herself stood on the threshold, rather shy in her little blue suit and hat, but with a great shining happiness in her eyes.

"I—I thought I'd find you all," she said. "I've come to say good-by. You see—" she held out her hands appealingly. "I've just married Jimmy Rogers!"

There was a moment of utter silence. Then, "Kitty!" Miss Bromley's voice held consternation.

But Kitty's radiance was undimmed. "I know I should have waited—"

"For your diploma," murmured Mademoiselle.

"Oh, that—" Kitty dismissed it carelessly. "I knew there was no hope. Besides, what good would it do me? I am to stay with Jimmy's people until he graduates. And then, that very day, we sail for Italy on our honeymoon!"

Italy! Honeymoon! Mademoiselle, Miss Bromley, the English professor looked surreptitiously at one another. The diploma they had sacrificed their consciences for seemed somehow insignificant.

Even Worse

"Yes, my old dad will soon have another wife to support."

"What! You don't mean to say he's going to turn bigamist?"

"No. I'm going to get married!"—London Tit-Bits.

New Novelties in Fabric and Color

Old Favorites Also Coming Into Prominence With Late Fashions.

The variants and original treatment of certain established fashions is of unending interest, observes a fashion writer in the New York Times. The flare is presented in countless ways, creating in most of its illustrations the uneven hem line, which in a bias cut of fabric is in any event inevitable. The tube dress is elaborated by the addition of flounces, plaited girdles, panels and inserted plaits. The straight skirt is no longer necessarily plain, but is laid in a finely plaited kilt. The circular flounce need not be attached in a straight line to "cut" the figure at an awkward point, but may form deep graceful points on the hips, as shown by some of the prominent couturiers of Paris in their latest models. All efforts to discard or to "plinch" the unfitted blouse bodice having been successfully resisted, it is given variation with fine plaiting, with motifs and borders of needlework or passementerie, and in some models is slashed in front to show a vest or gilet underneath. The detail of neck trimming has become a prominent feature. The entire collection of the season's costumes presents an unprecedented number of models from which to make individual selection.

The Return of Taffeta.

The latest news from Paris establishes the vogue of several novelties in both material and color. Old favorites, too, are coming back strong, their charm already illustrated in the models seen at the fashionable southern resorts. One notices the return of taffeta, the crisp but supple kind with rich luster. There has been such a craze for the soft fabrics, satins, crepes and voiles, and for the sheer stuffs, such as cloud-like chiffons, that taffeta has been seen in only a few eccentric creations. But some of the leading artists in Paris have persisted in their endorsement of it. Lanvin's favorite period model is most happily done in taffeta. The wide skirts and bouffant effects of the Lanvin gowns have become established as a style without age or season, with a dignity and distinction reminiscent of court dress of an earlier day. Nothing in materials is more suitable than taffeta for this style of gown.

The different varieties of taffeta in weave and color are interesting. Both manufacturers and modistes are handling it with enthusiasm. In plain colors there are blue, blue from navy to Brittany and pervenche, brown in several lovely shades, beige and, above all, gray. Soft, rich tones and parit shades have ousted more weird colors. The old-fashioned shepherds' plaid is much used in tailored and semi-tailored frocks. It is always chic, also the stripes in colors and "greige." Some delightful dance frocks are arriving from Paris, made of the newest taffetas, in wrap printed and flower patterns. Chiffon taffeta is the most suitable for evening gowns and linings for elaborate wraps. For sports suits, tussah, surrah and silk alpaca are much liked.

Sheer Fabrics.

Sheer fabrics, the filmy, delicate chiffons, the crepes and other silky weaves of nets and tulle, remain fashionable, and form the larger part of a smart wardrobe. These are shown in plain colors and in many patterns established by both foreign and domestic designers. In these, too, are many interesting revivals. One that appears to have an enduring charm, especially for women of refined taste, is the small polka dot, of which the oldest and one of the most prominent houses in this country makes a feature. This tiny little design is shown in both the crisp silks and the crepes, in white on color and color on white, and in many pleasant combinations of shades. Small checks, also, are much liked by some of the couturiers, who use them in the chic jumper, the tailleur and other models of informal dress. In some of these costumes a coat, and even a hat of the small tailored style, with draped crown, are made of the same material.

Interesting things are being done in combination of materials and colors. Plain crepe is used with figured crepe, or two shades of chiffon are harmoniously arranged. In some of the latest models sharply contrasting fabrics are put together. In a late Paris model, net is alternated with taffeta in wide bands to form a full skirt. Satin and chiffon are combined in a delightful afternoon gown in browns and gold. The chiffon is finely plaited, in panel godets, scarf and undersleeves. Charming results are shown in taffeta combined or garnished with lace. In picturesque dinner costume, Quaker-gray taffeta is used in panner effect over a skirt flounced in pale yellow lace, with touches of soft rose in knots of velvet ribbon. In another gown of this description misty blue, a new shade in taffeta, is combined with silk lace on which the pattern is lightly traced with silver thread. The last word in this fancy for contrasts is a frock of black taffeta trimmed with bands and deep cuffs on the long sleeves of imitation leopard skin marked in yellow, brown and black.

In Wool and Cotton.

Among the advance styles of spring are many new models in wool and some in cotton, the latter being for morning wear. Suede cloth for a coat frock is new and luxurious. It is striking in soft brown with trimming of gilt leather. Velours and velveteen are still seen in the more elaborate costumes for wedding gowns and for dress occasions. A wedding dress lately designed in Paris for an American girl was made of white velvet embroidered in pearls and brilliants, with a train of superb rose point lace finished with a band of velvet. Another stunning wedding costume, from Worth, is in the conventional satin with flounces of point d'Alencon lace, orange blossoms and pearl embroidery.

The vogue of gray extends to every sort of costume. Some ensembles are built throughout of one shade of gray, trimmed with fur, and include the hat, shoes and gloves. A fantastic whim is expressed in an outfit of light beige marquisette for frock and cape, with a turban of draped crepe and stockings of bright red and colonial pumps of black patent leather on which are large buckles of black patent and red kid. A geranium-colored one-piece frock and coat of crepe Elizabeth is bound about the pockets, collar, cuffs, and belted with bright gilt leather. A separate coat of beige kasha to be worn with a dress of the same shade is also bound with gilded kid skin. One other especially showy model is a raglan of vivid green kasha lined with white taffeta. The rather wide sleeves are embroidered from shoulder to wrist in white zephyr and the high collar is of clipped white wool.

Styles in Sleeves.

Definite changes have been taking place in sleeves during the past two seasons. Apparently no compromise is admitted. A sleeve is long or else, nonexistent. Many different styles of sleeve have been introduced lately. There was the "bishop" sleeves, the modern version of the leg-o-mutton of long ago, the sleeve that was ornamented on the upper half and plain below, the flaring, bell-shaped and wide-cuffed sleeve. For evening and afternoon, several variants of the graceful sleeve were seen. But gradually many of these models were eliminated. A few of the latest sleeves are new in treatment, both smart and becoming. Premet makes exceedingly long sleeves that almost conceal the hands. In one ultra-smart frock of sea green crepe, the long sleeve clings to the arm with a mousquetaire effect over the hand. The coat to be worn over this frock is of black kasha lined with green and has straight sleeves that widen in bell shape from the elbow downward with a narrow soft turn back cuff of the lining.

Unusual Arrangements of Plaits Used on Skirt of Cape Frock.

Service

BUILDING an automobile business without service is like trying to build a house without a foundation—it can't be done.

Our service is as dependable as the Studebaker cars we sell. We believe in service—it is the foundation of our business.

To us—good service means expert workmen, Studebaker trained; modern equipment; courtesy; promptness and fair prices. Our charges are made on a flat-rate basis. We tell you what the work will cost before you leave your car. And we do the work right the first time.

In our opinion there isn't a car built that requires less service than a Studebaker. The average cost of repair parts is only $10 per car a year. On the rare occasion when adjustment is necessary you will find us ready. Investigate our service before you invest your money in any car.

HOME, DAD and the BOY

By FRANK H. CHELEY
President of the Father and Son League of America

Next Saturday

THE DAILY DISPATCH

Will start a series of 18 cartoons accompanied by cut length editorials for dad.

Little pictures from the pencil reenforced by equally graphic word drawings illustrating the sort of men who succeed, as well as those who fail, in the business of being Dads. There is a picture of the square-shooting Dad who strives to understand his boy and enter sympathetically into his tendencies, desires and problems. There is a striking likeness of the egotistical Dad whose boy is one of the first to get wise to him. There is one of the bluffing Dad who has the distressing experience of having his bluffs called by his own son. The grouchy Dad, the slacker Dad and various other sorts, good, bad and indifferent, are shown. Although the matter is not expressed in so many words, the effect of the series is to inculcate the following:

- Points for boy knowledge and helpful home influence;
- Points for care of mental needs and development of the boy;
- Points for care of the physical needs and development of the boy;
- Points for care of spiritual needs and development of the boy;
- Points for care of social needs and development of the boy.

The work of Mr. Cheley has taught him the value of gangs—the natural herd proclivities of the boys. To discourage gangs is to discourage the social development of the boy. One of his most interesting articles advocates making the home the headquarters of the gang, with Dad studying to qualify as a member and entrusted with the password.

7 GAMES ARRANGED ON THE N. P. SCHEDULE

N. P. BASEBALL TEAM GETS 3 NEW PLAYERS

OLSON OF SEBEKA SIGNED TO PITCH FOR BRAINERD TEAM

NUTTING, SEBEKA, AND WEIR, AITKIN, ALSO IN LINE

The N. P. baseball team is making great preparations for the coming season, and has already lined up three new players to bolster the squad in several positions.

Of chief interest is the securing of Olson, slab artist from Sebeke, who last year gave the Brainerd diamond merchants a chance to look over his wares in two games. Olson is a youngster, lately out of high school, and one of the prettiest moundmen in this section. His coming will add a great deal to the effectiveness of the local team.

With Olson comes one of his mates, an outfielder by the name of Nutting, a hardhitting gardener whose ability will become well known to Brainerd fans soon. Then there is Shorty Weir, of Aitkin, who has announced his decision to come to Brainerd. He will perhaps be used to fill in at the hot corner, which is left open by the departure of Chuck Thorkildson. Weir is a third baseman of much cleverness.

The management of the team is angling with some success to induce Carl Tracy, of Pequot, to take over pitching duty with Brainerd. Tracy had a fine year last year pitching for Crosby, and opposed the Brainerd team several times.

A number of games have been lined up, including two at home, and five abroad, with others being arranged. The schedule so far includes the following:

May 16—Brainerd at New York Mills.
May 23—Sebeke at Brainerd.
May 30 and 31—Brainerd at Winoona.
June 6—Open.
June 13—New York Mills at Brainerd.
June 20—Open.
June 27—Brainerd at Sebeke.
Brainerd at Albert Lea, date to be announced later.

MASON DIXON TERRITORY IN BASKETBALL

Chicago, March 31.—(UP)—The territory below the Mason Dixon line predominated in the first round of the national interscholastic basketball tournament sponsored by the University of Chicago.

Six teams from the south came through with victories. They are San Antonio, Tex.; Pine Bluff, Ark.; Scott County, Miss.; Charleston, S. C.; Ducham, N. C., and Lexington, Ky.

The other four winners of the day are Cheyenne, Wyo.; Kansas City, Mo.; Pueblo, Col., and Newton, Kas.

Miss Louise Fordyce Defeats Miss Collett In Pinehurst Tourney

Pinehurst, N. C., March 31.—(UP)—Glenna Collett, woman's national champion golfer, fell before another woman for the second time this winter, when Miss Louise Fordyce, of Youngstown, O., defeated her 2 and 1 for the Pinehurst championship. Glenna was defeated a short time ago in a Florida tournament by Miss Virginia Van Wie of Chicago.

UNCLE SAM AFTER CHICAGO LABOR LEADER

Chicago, 31.—(UP)—Uncle Sam took out after Big Tim Murphy again today, when Chicago's fast-fisted labor leader was notified that he must make some settlement of the $20,000 fine the government says he owes, within 90 days.

Tim was notified of this in his apartment at the Webster Hotel and did not make any statement, the officers said.

Assistant District Attorney Byrne said that in the event no settlement is made within 90 days he will take steps to collect the fine. The fine was assessed in addition to the prison term for his conviction for participation in the $350,000 Dearborn Street station mail robbery.

Star Pole Vaulter May be Lost to Team

South Bend, Ind.—Paul Harrington, Indianapolis, star pole vaulter of Notre Dame, may be lost to the team for the season, on account of an injury to one of his legs received in the Texas relays last week, it has been announced here.

NEW YORK YANKEES STOCK RISING

VISIT TO KENNELS OF SPEEDY GREYHOUNDS ADDS VARIETY TO TRAINING CAMP LIFE OF GIANTS AT SARASOTA

The players of the New York National League club have become greatly interested in the sport of dog racing. Three of the Giants are shown here with fleet greyhounds at Sarasota, Fla. They are (left to right) Coach Grover Hartley, with Dr. Lawrence, Jimmy Ring, veteran pitcher who joined the New Yorkers this season, with Man o' War, and George Kelly, star first baseman, with Oakland Hook.

HELEN WILLS GETS PRAISE IN ROME, ITALY

USES TENNIS SPORT TO ENHANCE HER WOMANLY CHARM

SHE IS AS ENTHUSIASTIC FOR TENNIS AS FOR HER STUDIES

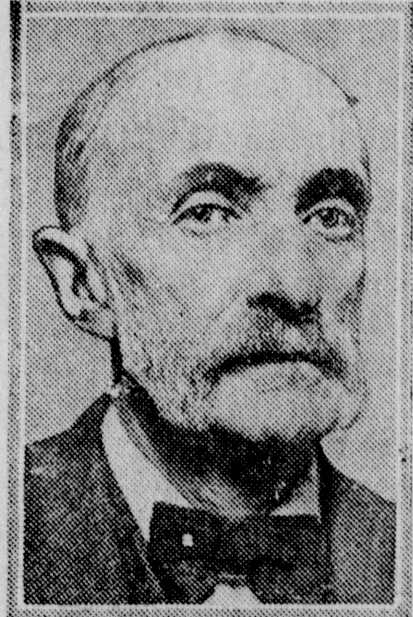

By THOMAS B. MORGAN (United Press Staff Correspondent)
Rome, March 31.—Helen Wills probably will not return to the Riviera next winter to meet Suzanne Lenglen or anyone else in the annual tennis carnival.

The American champion left for Florence today after a brief stay in Rome and before leaving she told the United Press that she expected to complete her university education at the University of California.

Some newspapers lavishly praised Helen on her last day in the capital. "She is an example beyond words of the wonderful womanhood that uses sports to enhance its womanly charm instead of to effect an artificial masculinity," according to one writer.

"Tennis for Miss Wills is but a game," writes another. "She is occupied with the same enthusiasm for her studies. Helen represents the maximum attainment in sport and still remains a woman."

ESCAPED HANGING ON PLEA OF INSANITY, 2 "VICTIMS" ARE NOW REPORTED ALIVE

Benton L. Barrett, accused of the murder of his wife and stepson in 1917, escaped the hangman's noose because he was adjudged insane. Information has now reached Los Angeles, Cal., that Mrs. Barrett and Raymond Wright, the stepson, are reported to be living in a village in Canada under assumed names.

KINDLY POLICE AID POOR LAD

Minneapolis, March 31.—(UP)—Minneapolis police today arrested 11 year old Clarence Custer, outfitted him with new clothing and sent him home in an automobile.

The lad, out of the Dowling home for crippled children for an Easter vacation, thought to help his sick father, support his mother and 10 brothers and sisters. Selling pencils on a street corner, his toes, blue with cold, protruded from shabby shoes.

STATE FIRE MARSHAL'S OFFICE HAS A SURPLUS

St. Paul, March 31.—(UP)—For the first time in five years the state fire marshal's office has reported a cash surplus at the close of the fiscal year to Governor Christianson.

At the close of business March 1, 1926, the office had a balance of $6,858. For the preceding four years deficits ranged from $480 to $16,410.

CONSOLIDATION OF THREE INTERCITY BUS LINES PLANNED

St. Paul, March 31.—(UP)—Consolidation of the three intercity bus lines by the Twin City Rapid Transit company was aimed to give the company a monopoly on the bus business of the twin cities, H. L. Bollum, president, told the railroad and warehouse commission today.

He predicted a constantly increasing demand for bus service and said bus line schedules would soon be fixed with reference to street car schedules so that the two would better supplement each other.

Witnesses were called to tell of the convenience and necessity of outside bus routes. Attorneys for the Northland Transportation company questioned the witnesses.

Care Little for Christmas

The American consul general to Argentina says that "they do not have a Santa Claus in this country as we practice it in the United States, but on each sixth of January they dress up to a very limited extent what they call 'Los Reyes' (the kings), wearing a Santa Claus beard and a red or colored coat, but the performance is very tame and not at all general."

OHIO MAN MISSING SINCE HE ARRIVED TO ENROLL IN YALE GRADUATE SCHOOL

Jackson D. McKinnney of Marietta, Ohio, has been missing since February 11, the day he arrived in New Haven, Conn., to enroll in the Yale University Graduate School. He is a brother of Frank B. McKinnney, president, and W. F. McKinnney, secretary-treasurer, of the Marietta Times.

CHIEF BRUNSKILL TO TESTIFY IN BIRKELAND CASE

Minneapolis, March 31.—Chief of Police Frank Brunskill was to go before the Hennepin grand jury late today as one of the last witnesses in the investigation to the death of K. B. Birkeland.

The jury is expected to complete its probe late today or early Thursday.

2 OF ROOKIE INFELDERS COME THROUGH

YANKEES ALSO HAVE SEVERAL GREAT YOUNG PITCHERS

POSSIBILITIES OF THE VARIOUS TEAMS IN BOTH LEAGUES REVIEWED

By HENRY L. FARRELL (United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, March 31.—More good young ball players have come up from the minors than the major leagues have seen for years, in the opinion of visitors to the spring training camps. Perhaps there are no Cobbs, Mathewsons, Wagners or Ruths in the new crop, but there are at least a few youngsters good enough to get their managers thinking about pennants.

Three weeks ago the New York Yankees were the laughing stock of the American League, a club that looked like a sure rival of the Boston Red Sox for the cellar.

Now the Yankees are being considered as a pennant possibility because Tony Lazzeri and Mark Koenig, rookie infielders, came through. The Yankees also have several young pitchers, but they don't need pitching so much.

Pittsburgh, fortunate in discovering Glenn Wright and Kiki Cuyler in recent years, was in good shape when the season closed last year, but there are two youngsters, Waner and Ryne, on the payroll, who are expected to deliver if anything should happen. Waner may get a chance to play center field if Max Carey carries around any bad effects of a serious spell of illness during the late winter.

The pennant hopes of the New York Giants center no little upon Al Tyson, new center fielder, and Fred Fitzsimmons, a bulky young pitcher, who had some work last season. John McGraw feels that Tyson is a star and will more than plug up a weakness of several seasons.

The Cincinnati Reds have two fine prospects in Emmer, a short stop from the Pacific Coast league, and Christenson, an outfielder from the American association.

The Washington Senators may have to depend upon Buddy Myer if Peck's legs go bad on him again. Myer is not a rookie in a strict sense as he had some experience last season, but he will be a young man in a very serious job.

The Philadelphia Athletics were so well stocked with juvenile talent that the club did not have to do much harvesting in the minors. One of the few newcomers on the roster is Joe Pate, a veteran, who may be carried on as a regular.

The St. Louis Browns uncovered a find in Oscar Mellilo, an infielder, and Ernie Nevers, the California football star, may turn into a prize.

The Boston Braves have a promising young pitcher in Henry Wertz.

CORNS

Lift Off—No Pain!

Doesn't hurt one bit! Drop a little "Freezone" on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then shortly you lift it right off with fingers.

Your druggist sells a tiny bottle of "Freezone" for a few cents, sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the foot calluses, without soreness or irritation.

Are you looking or overlooking your age?

Are you cultivating and shaking hands with the first gray hair—or are you shaking your head at it?

You can be 36 and look 40—or you can appear 32 and fool everybody except the people you went to school with—and clothes will do it!

Brainerd would have 50% more young men if we had our way—

ROAD BUILDERS PREPARE FOR WORK

Paving Contractors Getting Machinery Ready at Fort Ripley For Work on T. H. No. 27

NEW MACHINE PURCHASED

Ostrand and Hallett, Crosby Contractors, May Get Started in About 3 Weeks

With all machinery necessary on the site for the paving of T. H. No. 27 from Belle Prairie to Brainerd, and with a new paving machine being set up for the work, the contractors in charge, Ostrand and Hallett of Crosby, are getting things ready for the work, which will begin with the opening of suitable ground conditions.

The contractors have been getting the machinery in shape at Fort Ripley, and will perhaps get started within three weeks. They have a new paving machine of 9 sacks capacity which will be used on the job. The ordinary machine is of 8 sacks capacity, and the new one will add considerably to the speed of the operations.

The grade is all in readiness for the pavement, having been prepared last fall. The pavement will reach from Belle Prairie to Brainerd, and will include the center strip along South Sixth street, and also the one along West Laurel to the Mississippi river bridge.

The resident engineer supervising the work for the state is F. E. Miller, who reports that the frost is out of the grade two feet at present.

LEGION PLANNING MANY ACTIVITIES

interesting Meeting Held at Club Rooms in Juel Block With Ray Hall Presiding

SHOW TICKETS GIVEN OUT

Novelties Planned For Legion Benefit, "Behind the Front," Showing April 14 and 15

The American Legion held a very interesting meeting on Monday evening, March 29, at the club rooms in the basement of the Juel block, with Commander Ray Hall presiding. All Legionnaires are putting their shoulders to the wheel this year with a great enthusiasm and determination to make it the best year of all in the history of the local post.

A number of committees have been organized to work for the welfare of the Legion and the community, and many propositions were brought up for discussion at the meeting Monday. The Activity committee made an extended report on activities which are being planned or the near future, and showed that the committee is in earnest in trying to live up to its name.

Tickets for the Legion benefit show, "Behind the Front," were distributed among the members, and with the assistance of the auxiliary, it is expected that the Park theatre will be packed to the doors on April 14 and 15, the dates of the show. Many novelties will be displayed during the performances.

The Nash-Finch Co. donated cigars to the Legionnaires and a note of thanks was given to the representative of the company.

The Legion meets every Monday night in the club rooms in the Juel block, and invites all ex-service men to attend.

ODD FELLOWS INITIATE

Degree Team From Minneapolis Put on Work For Class of Candidates

Rushworth Encampment No. 19, I. O. O. F., initiated a class of candidates at the last regular meeting of the lodge, with the degree team from the Hennepin Encampment No. 41, of Minneapolis, putting on the work. The degree work was one of the finest ever put on in the local encampment.

Jericho encampment from Staples attended the meeting 100 percent strong, and Past Grand Chief Patriarch Dexter, from Detroit, was present to give a very interesting talk, and Deputy Grand Chief Patriarch Bouma was also on hand, giving one of his good talks as of old.

The evening closed with a big feed and smokes.

Following the installation, the house and social committee will serve refreshments, with preparations in the making to take care of the appetites of the members. Entertainment features are also on the card for the evening's program.

20,000 CHICKS IN PERIL

No Hard Coal to be Had For 100 Brooders in County, Appeal For Fuel Made

The lives of 20,000 baby chicks hang in the balance of fate, with the chance of their ever becoming broilers or fliers slim unless sufficient hard coal is forthcoming to heat their brooders.

With 100 brooders in the county, each made to house from 100 to 300 chicks, not a pound of hard coal, pea or nut size, can be located in any of the yards. This fuel is the only thing that can be burned in the brooders, and each brooder requires about 400 pounds for the season.

An appeal is being made to citizens who may have a few pounds of the precious stuff hoarded away in well guarded bins, with good prices offered, and promise to call for it made.

EVERGREENS GET ATTENTION

N. W. National Bank Publication Seek Information to Stem Piracy of Forests

Christmas trees are already commanding some attention from those in the state interested in forest preservation, especially among those doing work with the Keep the Highways Green society. Walter M. Murphy is in receipt of a letter from Frank Merrill, manager of the publicity department of the Northwestern National bank of Minneapolis, who asks for information regarding the society.

The bank issues a monthly trade bulletin which goes to a large number of customers throughout the northwest, and Mr. Merrill states that the information will be used next fall as a Christmas reminder to preserve the forests.

Mr. Merrill scores the piracy of the forests by auto truck drivers who raid the pine districts for trees for the holiday trade. His letter says in part, "Last year the twin city market was greatly overstocked and many trees were thrown away at the end of the season. The cutting of holiday evergreens is of course a legitimate proposition if carried on conservatively, and their sale doubtless furnishes a good outlet to forest owners for thinnings, but when the matter is overdone, and particularly when people with trucks run out from the cities and cut down the trees wherever they are handiest it seems that the practice should be stopped."

PROGRAM PLANNED FOR NIGHT STUDENTS

Examination of Night School Graduates And Graduating Exercises to be Held

TO BE HELD AT HIGH SCHOOL

R. K. Doe Authorizes Supt. W. C. Cobb to Sign Diplomas For Members of Class

The night school students of the second year class will be examined by Supt. W. C. Cobb and Clerk of Court W. A. M. Johnstone as to their qualifications to receive diplomas, the examination to be held on either the 12th or 13th of April. Head Naturalization Examiner R. K. Doe has authorized these men to conduct the examination, and has also directed Mr. Cobb to sign the diplomas of the successful candidates, and that these will be honored at the court as complying with the citizenship requirements.

Mr. Johnstone has received word from Mr. Doe that he will be unable to attend the exercises, owing to an increase in his territory, and a consequent addition of work. His territory has been practically doubled, and he will be unable to be in Brainerd before May 5, the date of the hearing on naturalization.

The examination will be followed by a public program and presentation of diplomas on the next evening, to be held in the auditorium of the high school. Appropriate exercises for the graduates have been arranged, and the general public is urged to attend. Mr. Doe in his letter states, "As to the evening program, I hope you will do your best to obtain speakers and make the evening as memorable and impressive as possible. The spirit of patriotism in a locality is very much heightened by such meetings."

The complete program will be published later.

Passion Week Service

The topic for this evening at the Methodist church will be "Christ in the Home." Services are from 7:30 to 8:30 o'clock.

STOP THAT BACKACHE!

Many Brainerd Folks Have Found the Way

Is a dull, nerve-racking backache wearing you out? Do you feel older and slower than you should? Are you tired, weak and nervous; find it impossible to be happy, or enjoy the good times around you? Then there's something wrong and likely it's your kidneys. Why not get at the cause? Use Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. Your neighbors recommend Doan's. Read what this Brainerd resident says:

Carl Sorman, 709 S. Broadway, says: "My back pained continually. Mornings I was stiff and sore and I couldn't stoop without getting a knife-like jab across my kidneys. My kidneys acted too frequently and caused me annoyance. I used Doan's Pills from Skauge's Drug Co. and they fixed me up in fine shape." 60c. at all dealers. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. 2 DAYLIGHT HOLDUPS IN MINNEAPOLIS

NETTED ACTIVE BANDITS APPROXIMATELY $1,000

MEAT MARKET AND GROCERY STORE WERE THE VICTIMS

Minneapolis, March 31.—(UP)—Two daylight holdups here late yesterday netted bandits approximately $1,000. A meat market and a grocery store were victims, probably of the same pair of bandits.

The J. B. Hanson & Sons meat market was held up while a score of customers and 10 clerks went about their business ignorant of the robbery. One bandit stood guard at the door while a second threatened the cashier and manager and escaped with all the money in the cash drawer, estimated at $800.

A half hour before the grocery store of Lewis A. Grandrup had been robbed of $200. Only the manager was in the establishment when the bandits entered. Descriptions of the robbers were the same, according to witnesses.

STOCKS IN VIGOROUS RECOVERY
New York, March 31.—(UP)—Stocks experienced a vigorous recovery today. Prices among the industrial leaders rebounded substantially from Tuesday's low and the standard rails also came back in good style.

Rallying tendencies were in evidence in the majority of the stocks recently under pressure. Steel, General Motors, Hudson, General Electric and other speculative favorites showed gains averaging about two points on the initial transaction and the rallying steadily gained headway despite an outbreak of selling in the equipment shares, which brought about sharp breaks in American Locomotive, Baldwin, American Car and Foundry and Railway Steel Spring.

Worried by the resistance displayed by the general list in the face of this disturbing development shorts bid spiritedly for stocks in the afternoon and the final hour was marked by brisk advances in special issues.

The market closed higher.

DESPONDENT OVER LOSS OF WIFE, HE KILLED SELF

St. Paul, March 31.—(UP)—George F. Thomas, 55, for 25 years northwest representative of the Masonic Publishing company, Chicago, fired a revolver bullet into his mouth early today and was found dead. Since his wife died about a year ago he had been despondent.

Broke Up Housekeeping

"We had to break up housekeeping because of my wife's stomach trouble. No medicine did her any good for more than a few hours. On a visit to Oshkosh a friend praised MAYR'S so highly my wife tried it and she has enjoyed the best of health since taking it." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Johnson's Pharmacy and druggists everywhere.

Minutes for Knowledge

You are busy. You haven't time to learn about things unless they can really interest you. Yet here's a way to learn about everything that concerns your personal life in almost no time at all. Just turn through pictured pages and run your eye down interesting reading. You learn of the best way to shave, dress, brush your teeth, make your food better, health stronger, home richer, self happier. The razor, underwear, tooth-brush that will act in the best way for you. New wonders you can buy—where to buy them, what to pay, the exact good they'll do. What thousands of other people are enjoying, just what those enjoyments are. Good taste in home decoration, serving of foods—how to avoid mistakes, make the most of yourself, the most of your money; how to save.

All this in just the few minutes it takes to glance over advertising columns daily. Fast knowledge! Advertisements talk to you simply, briefly. They spread wares plainly before you. You get their meaning at once. Form the pleasant little habit of getting their good news each day. Their facts mean wisdom for you.

Advertisements tell you where to buy,
what, when and how. Read them
